

BE YOUR OWN BODYGUARD

Learn how to defend yourself in any situation. Escape from headlocks; defend against punches, kicks, and assailants wielding knives, sticks, even guns. Designed by the Israeli Defense Forces, Krav Maga is a modern, street-effective; no-holds barred fighting style that will give you a greater sense of confidence. Now that's our idea of personal security.

IT'S NOT A STORY OF MAN VS. NATURE
SO MUCH AS PROFIT VS. LOSS

Green Century was founded on the idea that there are smarter, more effective ways to protect our environment. While it is true that every individual effort counts, we've found that multiple individual efforts invested and leveraged for change has convinced some of the largest offenders to clean up their environmental policies. Our strategy is effective and straightforward: Demonstrate to corporate leaders how they can profit from cleaner policy while simultaneously insulating the average investor against risk by offering a diversified portfolio of holdings. Using this approach, we successfully redirect the flow of money from traditional holdings into more forward thinking industries such as alternative and renewable fuels. At Green Century we offer more than a chance to beat the market, we offer a way to make a difference, a way to profit from building a better future. When you look at the balance sheet, and become interested in learning the specifics, call us for a prospectus.

Priorities change. Values never should. At Green Century we've made it a priority to not only beat the market, but to protect the environment doing it. We've taken a vested interest in cleaning up the world's worst polluters. Using investor money to leverage change, we've successfully redirected the flow of money from traditional holdings into more forward thinking industries such as alternative and renewable fuels. When your values become a priority call us: 1-800-93-GREEN or visit us on the web at www.greencentury.com.

In the past, to make a difference you had to renounce your material possessions and martini lunches in exchange for love of granola and thatched roofs; this theory no longer holds true. When you make an environmentally responsible investment you are acting with both your principles and your pocketbook. At Green Century we offer more than a chance to beat the market. Using investor money to leverage change, we have successfully moved beyond picket lines and have influenced decision-makers in the boardrooms of corporate America where the real decisions are made. When you're ready to trade your bullhorn for a real voice and take a vested interest in improving the world call us at 1-800-555-GREEN or visit www.greencentury.com

Changing the Nature of Investment

Clean water
Fresh air
High returns

Finally, a return to fundamentals.

Now, with investor confidence in corporate America at an all time low, it is good to know that there is a Fund seeking to better the world. Green Century believes companies who protect the environment and exercise good citizenship will be more profitable than those that don't; end result, a better future for everyone. Prudent investing doesn't have to involve complicated charts; our strategy is straight forward and effective. We seek competitive returns by putting your money to work for fresher air and cleaner water; end result you and your children inherit a healthier more profitable world. Some may call this a return to fundamental investing; we call it just plain smart. To learn how to get started, call 1-800-555-Green or visit www.greencentury.com
